

MS 61 Belfast Hebrew Congregation Collection

About the collection:

This collection was deposited with QUB Special Collections in 2018 by the Belfast Hebrew Congregation (BHC) for the purpose of providing access to members of the public conducting research. Rights to the collection remain with the BHC, and researchers must seek permission directly from the BHC to copy or publish any aspect of the collection.

The collection comprises a wide range of materials, and includes minute books of various meetings within the Belfast Hebrew Congregation from as early as 1897, records of marriages, bris, girls' births, annual reports and various miscellaneous documents and correspondence relating to the Belfast Jewish community.

The archive is an invaluable resource for researchers with an interest in the local Jewish community, and may also be of interest to those researching local family history.
