

FUTURE MEDICINES INSTITUTE

NORTHERN IRELAND

Located on the Health Campus at Queen's University Belfast, the Future Medicines Institute (FMI) is a hub for cutting-edge life sciences innovation, offering unparalleled opportunities for visiting companies to collaborate and thrive.

What FMI Offers:

Research Hotel:

A flexible space tailored for visiting companies to conduct research.

Bespoke Contracts:

Streamlined, accessible contractual models to suit your needs.

Seamless Access:

Direct links to Northern Ireland's life sciences, health, and academic sectors.

Dual Regulatory Framework:

Unique positioning for both EU and UK market access.

STATE OF THE ART FACILITIES

- Precision medicine target identification and validation
- Small molecule and biologic drug discovery and development
- High-throughput genomics and proteomics
- Complex in vivo modeling
- Cutting-edge digital biology and informatics platform development

COLLABORATIVE OPPORTUNITIES

- Partner with international CROs and precision medicine discovery leaders
- Gain expert support in grant development, regulatory advice, and clinical trial design
- Effortless access to Northern Ireland's clinical trial network

Email:
FMI@qub.ac.uk

Visit:
qub.ac.uk/Business/futuremedicines

SCAN ME

In partnership with:

